Great Greenland

Founded in 1975

Tannery and fur manufacturer

Experts in production and manufacturing of seal skins

The inuit culture

Our reason of being

Hunting seal is at the centre of inuit culture

Seal is considered a delicacy and eaten all over Greenland

Traditionally every part of the animal is used

Harp seal

Ringed seal

Sustainability

Seals are shot by hunters, who use the entire animal

Hunting seal upkeeps the small traditional villages of Greenland

World Wildlife Foundation has in its rapport on Greenlandic seal hunting from 2013 determined that it '...supports the sustainability hunt for seals in Greenland'

Great Greenland focuses on environmental sustainability in its tannery and manufacturing as well
